

Mid-Summer Newsletter

22nd June 2017

Hi, it's Dusty, the Program and Hospitality Director here at Cooperstown Bible Camp. The summer camping season has begun and is looking to be a very fruitful one: both for campers and the summer staff. We are now about to enter our third week of campers and the Lord is faithfully using this camp, the staff, and His divine creation to connect campers with His Son. Cooperstown Bible Camp is the place where I began to dig deep into my own faith, and it excites me that at this very camp I get to continue to work in the mission field for God's glory.

Dustin Dahl, Program Director

The summer season brings many opportunities to show both campers and summer staff what it means to be a follower of Christ. Please be praying for us to be able to reveal Christ in our lives in everything we do around camp. Pray for camper's souls to continue to be saved, healed, and grown through CBC this summer. This summer our theme is preeminence, please pray that we will place Christ first in all that we do. I know that during times of change things can seem like everything is falling apart. I want to assure you that camp is going very well this summer: kids are having fun, learning about the gospel, and building character.

Tim Stairs, Facilities Director

This is my first summer here at Cooperstown Bible Camp. I am blessed to be able to work with a great group of people. Everyone is very encouraging and uplifting and they keep me very busy. It has been quite a journey so far as I am learning systems and operations needed to do my job. It is going to be a very busy summer but what a joy to be a part of molding young children in their faith.

A collage of small photographs is arranged around the text. The photos include a tent, a tractor, a child climbing a rock wall, a roasted turkey, and several groups of people.

Prayer Requests:

1. That souls would be saved, healed, and grown this summer.
2. For strength, energy, and wisdom for summer staff as they interact with the campers.
3. Safety as we have lots of fun this summer with games and activities.
